SimPractice™ for Medical Assisting
Virtual simulations, real-life encounters

With fully immersive, case-based simulation scenarios, SimPractice challenges students to apply their medical assisting skills in a safe, yet realistic environment.

Within the virtual SimPractice environment, students gain valuable experience practicing key medical assisting skills. Along the way, they also expand their critical thinking abilities and develop soft skills, such as communication.

Students are challenged to make decisions and choose a course of action using a combination of case background information, assessment findings, and unfolding events during the simulation.

SimPractice for Medical Assisting offers a variety of realistic virtual scenarios, including:

- Administering an Injection
- Applying Heat/Cold Therapy
- Blood Draw
- Electrocardiogram (ECG) Assessment
- Emergency Care
- Exam Room Preparation
- Hand Washing/Gloving
- Patient Communication
- Patient Visit
- Peak Flow Testing
- Vital Signs Assessment
