Elsevier Certified Expert

Product Certification Guide

INTRODUCTION

This guide outlines the required activities for completion to become an Elsevier Certified Expert, at-a-glance. We encourage you to use this as a reference as you explore your new hub and review the resources for certification.

You will have to complete the Elsevier 360 activities, in addition to those of the specific product(s) for which you are seeking certification. Each section in this guide will list the resources to review for that product, along with the questions you'll be prompted to answer on the Elsevier Certified Expert survey. You must submit this survey to officially certify your completion.

If you are planning to achieve certification for multiple products, you have the option to submit individual surveys for each product or submit one survey for all relevant products (when making your product selection, please check all that apply).

After you submit the survey, you will receive a confirmation email from Elsevier Customer Success containing your Elsevier Certified Expert badge. Your survey will also be sent to our team immediately upon submission. After we have reviewed your application, we will deliver your customized Elsevier Certified Expert certificate (which you should receive within 5 business days) via email to the address you provided upon submission.

Please contact your Enterprise Customer Success Manager with any questions about the Elsevier Certified Expert certification process or Program Solutions training hub.
