Nursing Education Insights, an Elsevier Podcast

In our fifth episode, expert author Donna Ignatavicius, affectionately known as “Iggy,” examines the latest changes to the Next Generation NCLEX® (NGN) and explains the reasoning behind the need for such changes. Donna’s mission is to support nursing faculty in helping students learn critical, analytical, and creative thinking skills to access and retrieve the knowledge needed for developing clinical judgment. Donna serves as a leading NGN thought leader with Elsevier, helping faculty prepare for the changes coming to the NCLEX® and ensure students are patient-ready upon graduation.
