

Clinical Practice Readiness Assessment

Student Getting Started Guide

Elsevier's Clinical Practice Readiness Assessment or CPRA is the first standardized, reliable, and online method for you to assess your nursing practice readiness. Through high-fidelity, screen-based simulations that include questions in the style of the Next Generation NCLEX, you will understand whether you have the knowledge and skills needed to succeed as a new nurse in clinical practice.

Below is your student checklist for ensuring you have the smoothest experience on Test Day.

At least 2 weeks ahead of Test Day, please ensure:

- ✓ Make sure your computer is up to date with the recommended system specifications, including the latest version of the Microsoft Edge (if using Windows) or Apple Safari (if using macOS) web browser.
- ✓ You have an active Evolve Account by going to evolve.elsevier.com. Before creating a new account, make sure you do not already have an existing account.
- ✓ Use the Evolve Course ID provided by your school to enroll in your Clinical Practice Readiness Assessment Course. We recommend completing this step no later than 2 weeks ahead of your scheduled Test Day.
- ✓ If testing on your own device, make sure you have installed the Elsevier Secure Browser ahead of Test Day.

- To download the Elsevier Secure Browser, please click on your Clinical Practice Readiness Assessment course in Evolve. Then click the assignment name:

- On this next page, you will be prompted to download the Elsevier Secure Browser file and where to save it on your computer.
- This concludes your preparation for CPRA

On Test Day, please:

- ✓ On Test Day you will launch this Elsevier Secure Browser to access your assessment.
- ✓ It will take you to evolve.elsevier.com to sign in and access your CPRA via Evolve.
- ✓ On test day, ensure you have all apps not needed for testing closed, and you are not screen sharing or trying to use multiple monitors or devices.
- ✓ Bring your Power Cord if testing on your own device.
- ✓ Bring Headphones so you can hear the medical grade sounds in the assessment.
- ✓ Bring a calculator, but if you do not have one, there is also one available within the assessment.
